1. Anti-Bullying

1.1. Definition of Bullying

- 1.1.1. Bullying is a subjective experience and can take many forms, making it extremely difficult to define. Children, young people, and adults can instigate bullying. The nature of bullying is changing and evolving as technology develops.
- 1.1.2. Bullying is not the same as 'one-off' teasing or a falling out between friends. With bullying, there is a deliberate intention to hurt or humiliate another. There is a power imbalance, which makes it hard for the victim to defend themselves. It is usually persistent.
- 1.1.3. Occasionally, an incident may be classed as bullying even if it was an isolated event if it fulfils all other descriptions of bullying. This possibility should be considered particularly in cases of cyberbullying. If the victim might be endangered, then intervention is urgently required.
- 1.1.4. Bullying can be:
 - a. Emotional – being unfriendly, excluding, tormenting (hiding books, threatening gestures)
 - b. Physical – pushing, kicking, hitting, punching or use of any violence.
 - c. Racist – racial taunts, graffiti, gestures.
 - d. Sexual – unwanted physical contact or sexually abusive comments
 - e. Homophobic – focusing on the issue of sexuality.
 - f. Transphobic – focusing on the issue of gender.
 - g. Verbal – name calling, sarcasm, spreading rumours, teasing.
 - h. Cyber – misuse of email and internet chat rooms, threats by mobile text messaging or calls, misuse of camera and video technology
